Brilliant Halloween Ball Arranged by Tuxedo Club

Annual Event at Which Many Debutantes of Coming Season Will Appear Is Forerunner of Long List of Social Affairs Scheduled by Fashionable Folk

Many interesting affairs of a social nature are scheduled for the next week-end—golf and tennis, dinners and dances at clubs and country places within motoring distance of New York, and also the most interesting event of the fall season, the annual Halloween ball at the Tuxedo Club. This latter affair takes place on Friday night, and will be the most brilliant since pre-war days. Most of the debutantes of the coming season will make their first appearance at a formal entertainment at this affair, and there will be much entertaining on the part of those having villas at the Park, and the clubhouse will be filled with guests over the week-end. Tuxedo Park is beyond doubt the most exclusive and fashionable country club community in the country, and any entertainment planned by the members of the colony is an assured success from its inception.

The committee in charge of the ball this year is composed of Mrs. Frank Brown Krech, chairman; Mrs. Anson McKee Board, Mrs. Lewis S. Morris, Mrs. Philip Kip Rhinelandt and Correll S. Lee.

The Park is gay over this week-end, for the dog show of the Tuxedo Kennel Club, held yesterday on the club grounds for the benefit of the Tuxedo Hospital, proved a strong attraction and took many members of society out over the week-end. Several dinners were given last night in their honor at private villas and at the club.

Several house parties will be given over next week-end, one of the largest being one which Foxhall P. Keene will give on the estate just outside of Baltimore. He has invited a number of friends from the city to spend the week-end with him and to attend the opening of the racing season at Pimlico.

Dr. and Mrs. Preston Pope Satterwhite will entertain at dinner Saturday night at their country place at Great Neck, Long Island. Many of the Long Island set will be in attendance and a number of guests from the city will go down and spend the week-end at Merial Hall.

Several small and informal luncheons and dinners, followed by theater parties, have already been given in the city weeks before the season opens. The annual Henry Burdickton Rogers luncheon will be given at the Waldorf-Astoria on Friday night.

Many distinguished foreigners have arrived in the city in the last few days and have been entertained in an informal manner. Colonel and Mrs. H. A. Evans came in on Friday on board the Mauretania and are guests of Mrs. Evans's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, at their place in Morristown, N. J. Colonel Evans is the youngest son of that rank in the British Army, having received his commission when twenty-one years old. He served in the infantry, artillery and the R. A. F., in Palestine, and in France from the day the British entered the war, until the armistice was signed, during periods when he was convalescing from wounds.

The Marquess and Marchioness of Anglesy arrived today from Ottawa, Canada, and are at the Ritz-Carlton. They sail for England at the end of the week. They joined Lord Victor Paget there.

Mrs. Cornelia Adair, well known in England and New York and a prominent hostess in London, arrived on board the Mauretania on Friday and is at the Hotel St. Regis. Much entertaining will be done in her honor during her stay here.
